Dear Valued Customer,

At Staples, we remain committed to supporting your business with consistent value, reliable service, and the quality you expect across our assortment. We continue to actively manage costs across our supply chain and work closely with our vendor partners to minimize the impact of market changes on your business.

Over the past several weeks, we have received cost increases from suppliers across multiple categories, including paper and other products affected by rising raw material and distribution costs. These pressures continue to impact the broader market and are outside of our ability to fully absorb.

As a result, pricing for select items will be adjusted in accordance with the terms of your agreement with Staples, reflecting updated supplier costs. Changes will vary by category and product.

We recognize the importance of cost stability in your purchasing environment. Our teams remain focused on identifying opportunities to offset inflation, optimize assortments, and deliver practical, cost-effective solutions to support your business.

We appreciate your continued partnership and the trust you place in Staples.

Sincerely,
